Miss Carol Dawn Zukswert Is Presented '56 Franklin Moore Award At Luncheon On Friday

Miss Carol Dawn Zukswert of this year's graduating class at Gettysburg College was presented with the Franklin Moore Award at a luncheon tendered in her honor at Hotel Gettysburg, Friday, by Henry M. Scharf, manager of the hotel.

The presentation was made by Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, dean of the college, and James A. Johnston, president and managing director of the Hotel Harrisburg, Harrisburg. Mr. Johnston represented the 65 creators of the award.

"The Franklin Moore Award, established in honor of an outstanding Pennsylvania, is awarded annually to that Gettysburg senior who has contributed most to the morale and prestige of Gettysburg College. For Dawn Zukswert, the 1956 winner, no responsibility has been too large, nor assignment too small. In an interim year, her enterprising leadership and enthusiastic loyalty have contributed significantly to the welfare of the college community," the dean said in presenting Miss Zukswert with the check for $200 representing the income of the $6,500 award.

Established in 1950

The award, which is one of the top honors at the Gettysburg College, was established in 1950 by a group of nationally prominent hotelmen and central Pennsylvania professional and business leaders in honor of Franklin Moore, president and managing director of the Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, when Gettysburg College conferred upon him an honorary doctorate degree.

The award memorializes Dr. Moore's outstanding career in the hotel business, his services to the industry nationally and internationally and his contributions toward the advancement of business and civic interests.

On behalf of the contributors, Mr. Johnston said:

"The award honors an outstanding individual but more particularly it memorializes what the man stands for and demonstrates the opportunities available to all under the American system of free enterprise, and the results to be achieved by "plus" efforts. The requisite of the winner is unquestionably to give of oneself to advance the prestige of the institution. The contributors follow with interest the fine manner in which this award is administered by Gettysburg College."

Dr. Moore was unable to be present at the annual affair. He docks in New York on June 4 ending a two-month trip through the principal cities of South America where as president of the Inter-American Hotel Association he has been conferring with South American business and governmental officials in regard to development of hotels and inter-American travel.

John S. Rice, president of the college board of trustees, was absent due to a meeting of the governor's cabinet on Friday in which he participated as Secretary of Property and Supplies.

Others present at the luncheon, all of whom spoke briefly, were Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president emeritus of the college; Dr. W. E. Tilberg, dean emeritus; Dr. Robert Portenbaugh, vice chairman of the administration committee; Charles R. Wolfe, dean of admissions, and Jack Gabig, president of the Student Senate.

Norma E. Collier, 32, South Portsmouth, Ky., suffered lacerations of the forehead and bruises when two cars collided three miles north of Littlestown on the Gettysburg Rd. at 10:15 o'clock Friday night.

She was a passenger in a car driven north by Harry C. McConnell, 33, South Portsmouth, Ky. State police said David L. Harlow, 20, Baltimore, a sailor, was headed south and was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer when his car collided head-on with the northbound vehicle of the Portsmouth, O. salesman.

Damage was estimated at $100 to the Harlow car and $2,000 to the McConnell vehicle. The injured woman was brought to the Warner Hospital here in the Littlestown ambulance.

Harlow paid a $10 fine and costs before Justice of the Peace John Basehore on a charge of making an improper pass brought by police following the accident.

BURY MRS. HALTER

Deardorff, Chambersburg, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Deardorff, this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church. The double ring ceremony will be performed by the pastor, Rev. Clyde R. Brown, before an altar decorated with baskets of flowers.

The bride will wear a white ball-length gown of embroidered organza fashioned with a fitted torso, circular skirt and a Peter Pan collar. She will wear a bandeau of flowers as a headpiece.

After the wedding a reception will be held at the bride's home for a number of friends of the couple. Later the newlyweds will leave on a honeymoon of unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside in Chambersburg.

The bride has been employed at the Snyder Nursing Home, R. 3, for the last three years. Mr. Deardorff is employed by the Frick Company, Waynesboro.

HELD FOR ASSAULT

Thomas Sanchez Guzman, Bensenville, charged with aggravated assault and battery, is in the Adams County jail today awaiting a hearing after he is alleged to have hit Richard J. Treadway, Fifth St., across the nose with a bottle in a local restaurant early this morning. Treadway pressed charges against the Puerto Rican. Arrested by borough police Guzman will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder this evening.

Legionnaires Will Elect On Monday

Elections will be held Monday night at the meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion at its home on Baltimore St., Adjutant William T. Timmins Jr. announced today.

Scheduled to be elected at Monday's meeting, which will begin at 8 o'clock, are officers of the post, delegates and alternates for the Pennsylvania Department American Legion convention to be held at Philadelphia July 18 to 21, and directors for the American Legion Club. Final nominations for all elective posts will be made prior to the elections Monday evening.

Adjutant Timmins also reported that the post now has 1,001 members and urged "all members to secure as many new members as possible before June 19, the last day for membership cards to count towards post delegates for the 1956 Department convention."

Bands for Saturday night dances at the American Legion during the month were listed as: Tonight, Melo-tones; June 16, Melo-tones; June 23, Bud Codori, and June 30, Eddie Dunlop Ambassadors.

PLAN EVENTS FOR VISITING DAY AT HOME

Connie Stallsmith, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stallsmith, Biglerville, who has won numerous prizes for her skill as an acrobat, will be featured Saturday afternoon, June 23, at the annual Visiting Day at the Adams County Home.

Miss Stallsmith will present the entertainment at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The feature of the evening's entertainment will be a concert by the Blue and Gray band starting at 6 o'clock.

The annual visiting day will begin at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of June 23, officials of the Auxiliary of the County Home, sponsors of the affair, announced today.

Seek Donations

From 12 noon until 1 o'clock the various booths to be placed on the county home grounds will be open to permit the guests residing at the county home to have first choice of articles offered.

Donations of all kinds are sought for the Visiting Day, ranging from canned and fresh meats and vegetables to needlework and home-made pies and cakes.

A feature of the annual day is a table at which is displayed the work of the guests of the home during the past year. Money raised by the sale of those articles goes to the guests who made them, and for many at the county home that is their only method of getting "pin money" for the year.

Profits from sale of donated articles from other stands at the Visiting Day program are used to help carry on the programs of the County Home Auxiliary which provides trips for the guests, buys various articles needed for the guests, including such items as curtains, and generally assists in making life more pleasant and comfortable for the county's guests.

700 Scouts Coming To Pioneer Camporee

Approximately 700 Boy Scouts and Explorers from the York-Ada area Boy Scout Council will encamp on the Battletide here June 15 and 16 for a "Pioneers In Pennsylvania" camporee, John C. W. Riddle, Black Walnut District chairman announced today.

A total of 775 scouts qualified to participate in the council as district camporees held throughout the council over the last several weeks. Charles Harvey, York, general chairman for the camporee said the scouts will unload from trucks and cars on Slocum Ave. and march by way of Williams Ave. to the camp site on Pardee Field and the Spangler's Spring meadows.

In keeping with the pioneer aspects of the camporee, the scouts will light fires by flint and steel or friction and do all of their own cooking including bread baking.

Slashes In School Aid Help Leader Balance State Budget

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (P)—Gov. Leader today balanced the Commonwealth's budget by slashing 50 million dollars in appropriations and using the GOP 32 1/2 million dollar revenue estimate from the 3 per cent sales tax.

The over-all budget, tentatively tabulated after the governor wound up action on money measures sent him by the 1955-56 legislature, hovered roughly near the two billion dollar mark—an all-time high.

Last year, Leader recommended a budget of $1,843,583,000 for the current two-year fiscal period ending next May 31.

Goes Beyond Estimate

As it turned out the legislature ran far beyond that figure. In the general fund alone—in which none of the 600 million dollars in gasoline taxes and motor license fees enters—the final figure approved by Leader was $1,321,000,000.

That compares with Leader's recommendation of $1,237,493,000 made in April, 1955.

In a surprise move, Leader estimated the sales tax will bring in 32 1/2 million dollars between last March 7, when it took effect, and May 31, the end of the current biennium.

SCHOOL TAX IN STRABAN SAME

After giving tentative approval last month to a preliminary 1956-57 budget, the Straban Twp. school board at a special meeting Friday evening voted unanimously to continue the present tax levy for school purposes at 22 mills on the assessed valuation and a $14 per capita tax.

The township school district must raise an estimated $97,000 for its share of the Gettysburg Joint School district operating expenses next year and must pay $12,402 as its share of the rental to the school authority for the new buildings and additions recently completed. The transportation bill for next year is placed at $22,552.

Increased real estate assessed valuation and some expected increase in state appropriations will make it possible for the township to meet expenses next year without a tax increase, the directors decided, despite the fact that the bill from the jointure will be about $15,000 larger than this year.

The per capita levy on about 1,150 taxables is expected to bring in about $16,000. The millage is levied on the basis of an assessed valuation of $886,713.

The board notified Tax Collector Herbert Zepp of their action and the school levy will be included on tax cards soon to be sent out to township residents and property owners carrying the road and county tax levies. Four directors attended Friday's meeting at the store of Secretary Raymond Sibert. President Ralph W. Guise presided. The absentee was William Raber.

Road-e-o On Sunday "Rain Or Shine"

The teen-age Road-e-o to test the driving skill of young drivers, sponsored by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Acme parking lot "rain or shine," chairman William Hendley announced today.

The winner in the event will represent the town in the state Junior Chamber Road-e-o contest next Saturday. The first three place winners will all receive prizes in Sunday's event.

SAYS LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGES IMPORTANT TO FREE SOCIETY

Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, vice president and provost of Temple University, Philadelphia, told more than 300 alumni and guests of Gettysburg College at the alumni council dinner in Huber Hall Friday evening that the alumni of the sm liberal arts college must give support to their school "in the way of dollars."

Speaking on "The Fight for Survival" of the small liberal arts college, Dr. Gladfelter told the alumni that what they must think about, in addition to contributing for buildings and stadia, is that they must "give people something to think about that will make life a little richer and more fruitful."

Need Alumni Support

"The private liberal arts college is as important to the maintenance of a free society as is private free enterprise. Certainly the state has exercised little control upon the public institutions but no one doubts that it can. The nature of the offerings, the freedom with which truth can be pursued, emphasis upon religious values, these are the first to be tread upon. In the next decade enrollments in publicly supported institutions will greatly outrun those in private colleges. It is then that alumni must strengthen their belief in and support of private education. Americans now have the habit of calling upon the state or federal government for aid when any problem or project becomes difficult. We ask few questions when our tax dollars are demanded to extend free higher education. That each should have an opportunity has become an accepted right, even if it is the opportunity to fail. This growing conviction will require more dedication from alumni of private

C - D TEST IS "QUALIFIED" SUCCESS HERE

Pennsylvania's test of the new Civil Defense alarm system worked out with "qualified success" this morning.

The alarm caught the scheduled parade of the Keystone area of the Boy Scouts through the community before it started — with borough police providing a tip that it was about to occur.

Because of the alert, the scouts were held at their formation place on Lincoln Ave. until after the "all clear."

Half Hour Warning

Civil Defense officials had about a half hour warning before the "red alarm" signal was sounded by sirens and whistles giving an "up and down" or warbling effect at 10:10 o'clock. About five minutes later the "alert" signal was given to warn people to listen for further instructions. WGET gave the instructions, that "it is now safe to proceed."

Automobiles were halted at the square here by police, and people generally deserted the sidewalks after they became aware that an alert was being sounded.

A number of persons around the square, both in cars and on sidewalks, asked "What is it?" when traffic ground to a halt at officers' signals and the siren and whistles sounded.

Some Confusion

There seemed to be some confusion concerning the new "alert" signal which followed the "red alarm." Many interpreted that the "alert signal," a sustained note on whistles and sirens, as the "all clear" — which previously it was.

However Civil Defense has changed the signal until now there are only two — a warbling sound, meaning take cover; and a sustained note, meaning "listen for instructions." Reason for the change is the dangers of radio-activity which may follow air raids, Civil Defense officials said.

Fire Companies On Air

Burgess William G. Weaver, county Civil Defense head, said all fire companies were on the air with their radio set up prior to the alarm and the signal was fanned out both by telephone and radio for the alert. Local CD officials had help in stopping traffic for the test. Mounted state policemen, here for the Boy Scout parade, took over traffic duties in the north end of town for the alert.

TEACHER TO GET HONORARY M.A. FROM CARNEGIE

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH
PITTSBURGH (AP)—A high school chemistry teacher who started more than 300 of his pupils on science and engineering careers is going to receive the first honorary master's degree ever bestowed by Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Lon H. Colborn, a public school teacher 34 years, Tuesday will be given the unique honor for his work in helping to swell the ranks of scientists and engineers—vital in this technological era to the nation's progress and defense.

A man of 60, Colborn finds science and the teaching of science intensely interesting, and he has the rare knack of stimulating interest in others.

Has No Children

Colborn's citation says the number of his pupils who continued science and engineering studies in college "and the distinction which they have attained, is truly remarkable."

Colborn, who has been teaching chemistry at Pittsburgh's Taylor Alderidge High School 24 years, began a special qualitative analysis course in 1933 for pupils who showed scientific potential.

In the succeeding years, 357 students took the course. More than 100 went on to receive doctorates.

Colborn is married but has no children.

Mrs. Lewis Bell Of Emmitsburg Dies

Mrs. Mary Ellen Bell, 64, died at her home, E. Main St., Emmitsburg, Friday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock following a lingering illness.

A life-long resident of Emmitsburg, she was a daughter of the late Kester and Jennie (Freed) Reifsnider. Surviving are her husband, John Reifsnider, Jacksonville, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Emma Grace Cantella, Washington, D. C.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the VFW Auxiliary of Emmitsburg.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church with her pastor, the Rev. Gideon G. Lombos officiating assisted by Rev. Paul McCauley, Emmitsburg Methodist pastor. Interment in Mountain View Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Friends may call Sunday evening after 7 o'clock at the Allison Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, or at the church from 1 o'clock Monday afternoon until the time of funeral.

Concert Directors Will Elect In July

"CONTRITE PRAYER"

When you're not quite up to normal . . . and you find it rough to plod . . . I know you'll find new faith and strength . . . by praying to dear God . . . ask Him for loving guidance . . . to help you through the day . . . no matter how bad you may feel . . . dear God will show the way . . . God gives a magic tonic . . . that makes our hopes ascend . . . filling our hearts with gladness . . . trust like a tender friend . . . must in His understanding . . . He will not let you down . . . God puts a smile upon each face . . . and chases every frown . . . and so when you are all at sea . . . seek God and don't despair . . . a wealth of peace and comfort . . . is gained through contrite prayer.

The average May temperature at Arendtsville was a tenth of a degree higher than at Gettysburg but it got colder there than it did here, the records show. The average May reading at Arendtsville was 58.1 degrees. Gettysburg's was straight 58 degrees.

The extremes differed at the two stations. Gettysburg's high was 90 but Arendtsville reached only 89 on May 14. The low there was 29 on the 17th and Gettysburg's was a 32-degree reading. Arendtsville also had 30 degrees on May 9. The two below-freezing nights are believed to have caused considerable fruit damage.

Arendtsville got a little more rain than Gettysburg. The total at Arendtsville was 2.88 inches. Gettysburg's total was 2.51 inches.

At Arendtsville the average temperature was 2.6 degrees below normal there, while the rainfall was 1.45 inches short. The five-month accumulation there was 16.19 inches, which is 1.35 inches below normal.

The Arendtsville station reported 311 hours and 45 minutes of sunshine last month, which is 70.1 per cent of the "total available."

MISS L. DEHAAS

chapel-length veil of illusion is fastened to a lace and pearl cloche. The bride will wear elbow-length organdy mitts and a single strand of pearls. She will carry a modern colonial bouquet of white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Maid Of Honor

Miss Mary Frances Nagle, Allentown, will serve as maid of honor. She will wear a ballroom dress of turquoise silk taffeta fashioned with a V-neckline, fitted tucked bodice and bouffant skirt. She will wear a white picture framed hat designed with appliqued daisies, white shoes and gloves. Her bouquet is a modern colonial arrangement of pale yellow daisies and pink and white carnations.

Miss Dorothy Fidler, Gettysburg, the bridal attendant, will wear a gown and accessories similar to the maid of honor's and will carry a modern colonial bouquet.

H. William Devitt, Nutley, N. J., brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man. The ushers will be: William B. Baumann, Essex Fells, N. J., William DeHaas, Gettysburg, brother of the bride, and Ensign Carson Wheeler, Long Beach, Calif.

Will Hold Reception

The bride's mother will wear powder blue lace over taffeta with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother will appear in a rose silk shantung sheath dress with pale blue accessories. Each will wear a corsage of pink roses and white stephanotis.

A reception will be held in the church social room after the ceremony with members of the 50-50 Sunday School class serving as hostesses. Afterwards the couple will leave on a week's honeymoon through the New England states. As a traveling ensemble the bride will wear a powder blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. Upon their return they will make their home at Montclair, N. J.

The bride is a graduate of the Gettysburg High School and the School of Nursing of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. She has been employed as a staff nurse at the East Orange Veterans' Administration Hospital, East Orange, N. J.

The bridegroom, who was graduated from the Montclair High School, Montclair, N. J., attended Fairleigh-Dickinson College, Ridgefield Park, N. J. He is an assistant Scoutmaster for the Boy Scouts of Montclair, N. J. He is employed at the National Cash Register Company, Paterson, N. J.

Out-of-town guests will be from Nutley, Upper Montclair, Asbury Park, Ramsey, Wyck, Caldwell, Passaic, Essex Falls, East Orange and Summit, N. J.; Larchmont, N. Y.; Portland, Me.; New Haven, Conn.; Martinsburg, W. Va.; Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Allentown, York, Beech Creek, Mill Hall, Howard, Pa., and Long Beach, Calif.

He had first been taken to the Charles Town Hospital and later removed to the hospital in Hagerstown.

He was supervisor for A. & P. Stores in Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania for the last 14 years. Prior to that he had been manager of several of the company stores in Hagerstown and had made his home in Hagerstown for many years.

Mix grated American brick cheese with well-drained chopped canned tomatoes, bits of anchovy fillets, salt, pepper, minced parsley and oregano. Spread on toasted buttered split English muffins and broil until bubbly. Serve at once.

Arthur W. Sheets, 50, Hagerstown, district supervisor for the A. & P. Food Stores, including Gettysburg, died shortly before noon Friday at the Washington County Hospital of injuries received early Tuesday in an automobile accident. He had undergone an operation for a badly lacerated liver.

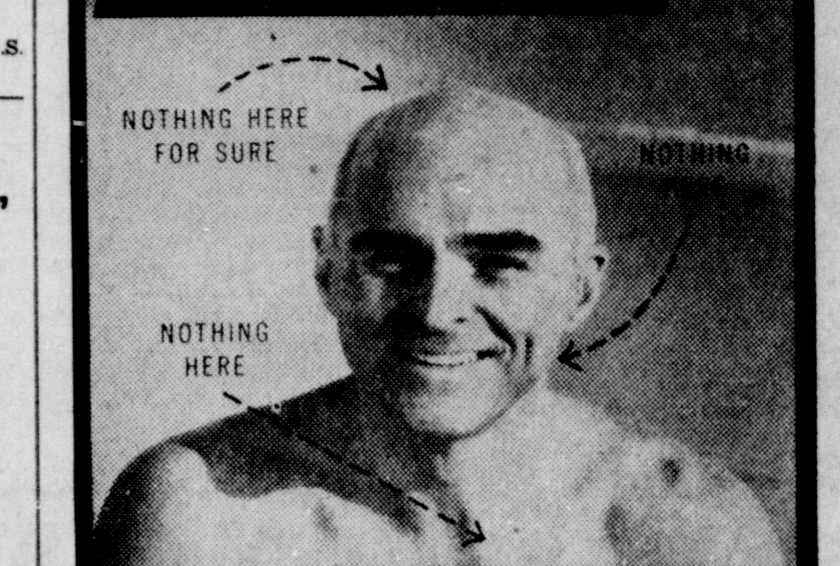

Corp. Frank Bowley, of the West Virginia State Police at Charles Town, who investigated the crash, said the accident happened about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday on the Shep-

TEN YEARS AGO

Ends 29 Years As Operator:

The retirement of Miss Maude Whiteleather, 47 Hanover street, as night operator for the United Telephone company here for more than a quarter century, was announced Saturday by C. A. Bixler, company district manager.

Miss Whiteleather began her career as a telephone operator in Gettysburg during the first world war and except for brief transfers to other cities to help in emergencies she served here during the last 29 years.

General Eisenhower Delivers Address At College Commencement Exercises Here Monday; Gets Honorary Degree: "No one can come to Gettysburg unstirred by the thoughts of those who fought here and of him who spoke here," declared General Dwight D. Eisenhower to a packed auditorium in the Majestic Theater here Monday morning at the 14th commencement exercises of Gettysburg college.

"Internationally we are now embarked on a great enterprise whose aim is to free the world from the threat of another suicidal war. It offers you and millions of other young Americans an inspiring challenge," the general added.

"A vital need to success is a strong, virile American forthrightly standing before the world as a shining example of unity and freedom among ourselves, and, externally, a tireless supporter of justice, right and understanding. What has been won for the peoples of this continent you can preserve here and help win for all the world."

George W. Krug 100 Years Old On Tuesday: Adams County's last surviving member of the "Boys in Blue" who turned back the tide of confederacy in the 1860s reached the century mark Tuesday.

George W. Krug, Kingsdale, near Littlestown, was a slim 18 year old when in 1865 he signed for service with the Union army in response to President Lincoln's last call for volunteers.

Today his hearing is a little less acute, and he is much weaker but he still finds pleasure in the memories of by gone days and the antics of modern children.

Merwyn C. Fuss Is Elected Head Of Brotherhood: Merwyn C. Fuss, Taneytown, was elected president of the Maryland Synodical Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church in America Monday at the 25th annual convention of the organization held in the church of the Abiding Presence at Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary.

Kenneth Beam Heads CE Union: Kenneth Beam, Gardners, was elected president of the Adams County Christian Endeavor Union at its meeting Monday evening at the YWCA. Other officers elected were first vice president, Miss Martha Furney, Gettysburg; corresponding secretary, Virginia Slusher, Gardners; treasurer, Mildred Coshum, Gettysburg; pastor counselors, Rev. Harold V. March, Gettysburg, and Rev. G. S. Stoneback, Fairfield.

11th War Veteran Joins Times Staff: Mahlon P. "Jim" Hartzell, P. Hartzell, East Lincoln avenue, today joined the job printing staff of The Gettysburg Times. A veteran of 40 months service in the recent war, he is the eleventh veteran of World War II to join The Times force.

Bricker Appeals For End Of "Ineptitudes" In U.S. Direction Of Economics: Declaring that America stands at the crossroads between collectivism and "freedom under law," former Governor John W. ## Today's Talk

PURPOSE OF BOOKS

This would be a sad and uninteresting world if there were no books in it. What is their purpose? I would say for one that their purpose is to keep men and women forever alive. There is nothing more human than a book. I never feel alone in my library, even though there I have none but my book friends.

Never in history have there been so many worthwhile books for sale. And now, with these paper backs that can be bought for less than fifty cents, we have the literature of the world placed in our lap, for reading at our leisure. Millions of these neat Pocket Books are being sold. It is a good sign.

There is an intimacy to a book and when we read it we are nourishing the spirit of the author, who might have almost starved when he wrote it! Thank God there are those who so love books that they are keeping more and more of them alive and in circulation. I like to go into the fine libraries of our great colleges like Dartmouth, Yale, University of Michigan, and others. Scores of boys silently reading and enriching their minds.

One of the first buildings on a college campus should be the library. And every city should point with pride to its library, and I would hope that it would always be an outstanding one. The ordinary person does not realize the hunger for knowledge that so many have and how that hunger is appeased in our free libraries. When in college I could be found most any night hidden away in some corner of the town library.

These early excursions into books make a great impression on the mind, and help to establish a habit of thought and reading that is priceless in the years ahead. Unconsciously we improve our diction and our simplicity of thought through the reading of the best authors, whose books have stood the test of time.

HOSPITAL VISITOR

When to the hospital you go
To do a little visiting,
Don't tell your ailing friend you knowA man who had the self-same thing.
Forget the aunt who had it too.And keep her every symptom hid;
And do not endlessly review
Just what she took and what she did.If there's a doctor on the case,
He knows his trade beyond a doubt.Don't think that you can take his place
By telling cures you've heard about.Sit quietly beside the bed
And say the weather's very nice.
But if some book of ills you've read,
Don't give the patient free advice.Forget the day your grandpa died;
Forget the aunt who lived for years;
Don't tell the various pills she tried.
Let yours be chattering that cheers.Admire the roses and the nurse
And say: "You're in a pleasant room."But never make the patient worse
With tales of suffering and gloom.

May Rainfall Near Record In Gettysburg: The first month this year to see more than normal rainfall, May, built up a total of 6.09 inches and came near setting a new record, Dr. Henry Stewart, local observer, said today. His records show the May rainfall total was exceeded by only four months since weather records were started here more than four decades ago.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader Friday designated Maurice Abrams of Wyncote, Montgomery County, as chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review at $11,500 a year.

HAGERTY SEES TOUGH, DIRTY DEM. TACTICS

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's press secretary Friday predicted the Democrats will wage a rough, tough and dirty campaign this year.

James C. Hagerty told a campaign conference of Citizens for Eisenhower the Democrats have no real issue and so "they are going to throw everything at us including the kitchen sink."

"It's going to be rough. It's going to be dirty and it's going to be tough," said Hagerty who appeared on a panel discussion with two other presidential aides, Wilton B. Persons and Dr. Gabriel Hauge.

Shotgun Approach

Hagerty declared the Democrats are using a "shotgun approach"—that is, attacking everything in sight because of what he said is lack of a real issue.

He said the Republicans can counteract this, however, by giving the public the facts. And the main fact, he said, is that Eisenhower is the "greatest force for peace in this world."

Hagerty took issue with critics who have said the Geneva conference was a failure. Calling the 1955 meeting a "very great success" he said it dispelled the idea spread by the Communists that the United States was "the big bully with the H-bomb" and ready to drop it on a whim.

"I haven't heard that since Geneva," he said.

SAYS DISHONEST FIRMS ESCAPE HANDS OF LAW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-De) said Friday firms which "pocket the social security and income tax payments they deduct from their employees' pay checks apparently are never prosecuted."

He called for an investigation by the Senate Finance Committee, of which he is a member.

Williams told the Senate Thursday that the Treasury Dept. carried claims of that kind totaling $284,803,237 on its books as of last Dec. 31.

Notes Plaster Co.

Williams said the Reliable Plastering Corp. of Philadelphia has won the plastering subcontract for the big new Senate Office Building while it owed the government $432,763.97 in such tax claims. He later amended his remarks with a statement that Reliable is one of two firms which won the subcontract in a joint venture bid.

The subcontract—its total never has been announced—was awarded last fall to the Penn-Jersey Plastering Co. of Atlantic City, identified officially as "a joint venture of Miller Masons Studios of Atlantic City and the Reliable Plastering Corp."

Williams stuck to his contention the alleged tax deficiency "enabled the firm (Reliable) to underbid" rivals who had paid up their taxes.

Files Tax Liens

The Internal Revenue Service said it has filed tax liens against Reliable to recover the alleged tax delinquencies mentioned by Williams. It said the company is making "satisfactory" installment payments on the debt, but declined to give other details.

In Philadelphia, Alex Levin, vice president of Reliable, denied Williams' charge that his firm had diverted to its own use social security and withheld income tax payments.

Levin said the company fell back in its taxes because of what he said were a "couple of bad jobs in which we lost a great deal of money." He said the company has been current in its tax payments for the past two years, and that during that period it has been paying back taxes to the government at the rate of $10,000 a month.

HELP BUSH ERADICATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader's approval today is on a measure appropriating $30,000 for the eradication of rust-spreading barberry bushes. The funds will be distributed by the State Agriculture Dept. on a matching basis with the counties.

A Roomful Of Roses

A new play by Edith Sommer, begins a two-week run at Allenberry Playhouse, Bolling Springs, Monday evening at 8:40 o'clock. The story of a twice-married woman who tries to win back her daughter's love after a separation of eight years, the comedy-drama features Pat Larson and Joyce Flynn in the lead roles of mother and daughter. Both actresses will make their Allenberry debuts opening night.

Roles of the daughter's teen-age friends will be played by Billy Barnes, Bobi Busch, and Tony Della Rocca. Bettie Endrizzi has a featured comedy role in the play as a talkative busy-body who lives next door.

Directed by Richard North Gage, "A Roomful Of Roses" will continue at Allenberry through Saturday, June 16, with curtain each evening at 8:40 and matinee performances on Wednesdays at 2:30.

Parents Alerted Against Rabies

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department has warned parents to be on guard against rabies during the coming summer months.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, health secretary, issued the warning along with an explanation that recent control efforts have reduced the incidence of rabies in southeastern Pennsylvania.

But he stressed that a danger to humans still exists and advised use of precautions against the disturbance.

In Chester County, a scene of a recent outbreak of rabies among foxes, a community organized rabies prevention clinic recently was held at which 149 pet dogs and cats were immunized, he said.

The clinic was arranged by local parent-teacher associations of Franklin and London Britain Twp. Local veterinarians cooperated in the project.

Shamokin Teachers Will Stay 'Out'

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP)—Teachers in nearby Coal Twp. voted last night to remain away from posts when school re-opens Sept. 1 unless they are paid some six weeks' back wages.

The teachers adopted a resolution at a meeting calling on the school district to take steps to make the back payments. Copies of the resolution were forwarded to the superintendent of public instruction and to Gov. Leader. Ninety-two teachers in the district are affected.

The salary delay arose out of held up teacher subsidy payments last fall and early this year resulting from an impasse over taxes in the State Legislature.

GUSTY WINDS, DRIVING RAIN LASH STATE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe electrical storm accompanied by driving rains and gusty winds caused considerable damage in Pennsylvania Thursday night and early Friday. Among the storm caused incidents was a near elephant stampede at the Barnum &amp; Bailey Circus in Philadelphia.

The eastern section of the state bore the brunt of the turbulent weather. In the Philadelphia area, lightning started several fires and heavy rains caused some minor flooding.

Power was cut for a time in scattered communities extending from Philadelphia to York and north to Stroudsburg and Bethlehem.

Trees, signs, fences and even a cinderblock wall were bowled over by the wind gusts.

Lightning started a fire at Villanova University's 114-year-old Alumni Hall. The blaze was confined to the building's roof.

Bolt Starts Blaze

Lightning also started a fire Thursday night at the Post House, a well-known restaurant in the Drexel Hill section of suburban Philadelphia. That blaze, too, was confined to the roof and a section of the building's second floor.

Power and telephone failures were reported in areas of Montgomery County, York, Stroudsburg, Allentown and Bethlehem.

Stroudsburg got a grim reminder of last fall's floods that took 67 lives in that Pocono Mountain area. Tense rains quickly caused storm sewers to back up and flood low-lying streets to a depth of a foot. Trees were felled by the winds in that area.

The mercury hit the 85-degree mark in Pittsburgh, where a shower gave relief from the heat in the early evening Thursday.

The weather bureau issued a warning of possible severe thunderstorms in western Pennsylvania but the danger period passed without reports of any severe disturbances.

Thunder Sets Off Elephant Stampede

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A loud thunderclap frightened a baby elephant performing in the main ring of a circus Thursday night, setting off a near stampede of other elephants that was ended quickly by their handlers, five of whom were injured.

The small elephant squealed and broke into a run and about a score of larger elephants started to follow his lead. As thousands attending the Barnum &amp; Bailey circus started to rise from their seats the handlers moved in quickly to divert the herd toward a corral.

But in the cramped confines of the corral the elephants became more excited and started pushing against each other. Several of the handlers were stepped on as they tethered the ponderous animals.

Most seriously hurt was Benjamin White, 25, of Sarasota, Fla., hospitalized with a back injury. Others requiring treatment for lesser injuries were Robert Burkhardt, 25; John Hayes, 33; Joseph Pettit, 22; and Walter Allen, 20, all of Sarasota.

5 A.M. Is Popular Time For Births

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor reported Friday what many mothers know — more babies are born at 5 a.m. than at any other hour.

Dr. Peter D. King of the Warren, Pa., State Hospital wrote in the magazine Science that a study of 33,215 births at five hospitals showed 48 per cent more were born at 5 a.m. than at 7 p.m., the low hour.

Of the 33,215 births, he said, 1,632 occurred at 5 a.m., 1,590 at 3 a.m., 1,588 at 8 a.m.—the three most common hours — and only 1,103 at 7 p.m.

Red Murff, 34-year-old rookie pitcher with Milwaukee, completed 38 of 35 starts for Dallas in 1955.

SNAKE ROUND-UP TO BE STAGED

MORRIS, Pa. (AP)—The rattlesnake will be king in this north central Pennsylvania village to-day.

The community of 100, augmented by enough of the curious and fun-loving to make a total of two or three thousand, will stage its second annual rattlesnake round-up, billed as the only one of its kind in the East.

The rattlesnake hunters will organize in groups, guided by professional snake hunters, to scour the mountains for the poisonous critters. The instructions are to bring them back alive, the snakes, that is.

TWO MORE JOIN 4-MINUTE MILE CLUB IN CALIF.

By BOB MYERS

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—The still select sub-four-minute mile club admitted two more members today, Ron Delany of Ireland and Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark.

The two made the grade last night in the Compton Invitational Track and Field Meet, 21-year-old Ron, a student at Villanova University, qualifying first with a stunning, hard won duel to the tape with Nielsen.

Delany was timed at 3:59.0 and Nielsen at 3:59.1.

No Yank In It

No U.S. miller belongs to the club. The two foreigners qualified for membership on the track where America's best bet, Wes Santee, three times tried to break the fearsome four.

Delany won athlete-of-the-meet honors, overshadowing such co-favorites as:

The victory of ex-Fordham runner Tom Courtney over Belgium's Roger Moens in the 880-yard race.

The achievement of Ira Murchison of the U.S. Army, who got in to the meet as an added starter and proceeded to tie the world record in the 100 meters at 10.2.

Other Features

Another prodigious put of the shot by the world king, Parry O'Brien, at 60 feet 5 1/4 inches which went virtually unnoticed because such throws, including his official record of 60-feet-11, are customary for him.

A pole vault of 13 feet 1 1/4 inch by Bob Richards, and another of the same height by Ron Morris of Southern California, his first at such a dizzy altitude.

Today most of the athletes fly to Stockton, Calif., for a meet tonight.

Nielsen Set Pace

Jim Lea, another Air Force athlete, won the 220-yard dash in 21.0 and the 440-yard in 46.2.

In the 880, Courtney managed to hold off a belated surge by Moens, coholder of the world 800-meter record, and win in 1.49. But it was the mile run that stood out.

Nielsen was running for the first time since February. He made his own pace for a while and had nothing to kick back with when Delany drove up and passed him 70 yards from the finish.

BOARDMAN WINS WITH DECISIVE KO OVER RYFF

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Boardman, 20-year-old Marlborough, Conn., lightweight, may be in line for a September title shot at champion Wallace (Bud) Smith as a reward for his knockout over Frankie Ryff.

Sam Silverman, Boston promoter, said he could present a deal by which Smith would be guaranteed $50,000 to fight Boardman for the title in Boston, Sept. 10, after the New England youngster knocked out Ryff last night in 46 seconds of the ninth round at Madison Square Garden.

Silverman's deal is a complicated maneuver involving Ted Hilder, a resort owner from Modus, Conn. It remains to be seen whether Smith will be interested. The champ has an over-the-weight match at Milan, Italy, June 23, with Duilio Loi of Italy, the No. 1 contender.

Talks About Retiring

Whether or not the curly haired blond lad gets his title shot, he owns the championship of Mr. Ryff who claimed he never before had been knocked off his feet. A left-right combination to the chin dropped Ryff on his face. He tried to get up at seven, crumpled and fell on his back. The corner crew dragged a stool to mid-ring before helping him to his corner. After the fight, Dr. Ira McCown of the New York State Athletic Commission ordered Ryff to go to St. Clare's Hospital for "observation." The fighter talked to newsmen and chatted with friends before he left the Garden. In his dressing room he was talking about retiring from the fight game.

Putter Puts Uruguay Girl Ahead Of Patty

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Faye Crocker of Uruguay relied on a red-hot putter today to retain a one-stroke lead over Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., in the third round of the $7,500 Churchill Valley Women's Invitational golf tournament.

Miss Crocker needed only 26 putts yesterday to card a par 70. She shot a 75 Thursday for a 36-hole total of 145 in the 72-hole tournament.

Miss Berg, leading money winner among the women pros, had a 74 for 146. Close behind was Marlene Bauer, of Sarasota, Fla., with 147. Alice Bauer of Asheville, N.C. was three strokes behind her sister with a 150.

District 2 Names All-Star Ball Team

EASTON, Pa. — Thirteen colleges are represented on the District 2, NCAA all-star baseball team announced today by the district selection committee. Selection was limited to seniors only.

Gettysburg College, a District 2 team, failed to place a man although Joe Pouik, senior left-hander, sports one of the most impressive hurling records with a 6-1 mark.

The selections follow: Fredericks, Lafayette, 1b; Gasparini, Upsala, 2b; Peters, Lafayette, ss; Califa, Fordham, 3b; Watts, Lafayette; DeVincent, LaSalle; Nardulli, Colgate; and McMullen, Penn State, outfielders; Ambrosion, PMC, and Butler, Army, catchers; Fishburn, Colgate; DeGraff, Cornell; Hooper, Delaware; Noonan, St. John's; and Richards, Bucknell, pitchers. Wagner, Lehigh, was named as utility infielder.

Rev. Howard Smith Takes New Charge

Rev. Howard W. Smith, a native of Adams County, has accepted appointment as the first pastor of the recently-organized Barrens-Franklin Lutheran charge and will be installed Sunday.

The charge consists of Salem (Barrens) and St. John's (Franklin) Churches, both of Dillsburg, R. D. It was formed when the four churches of the former Dillsburg Lutheran charge realigned into two separate charges in September, 1955.

The installation service will be conducted in Salem church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday with Rev. Paul L. Reaser, York Lutheran conference president, presiding.

He was valedictorian of the 1943 graduating class of York Springs High School. He worked on a farm six years before enrolling in Gettysburg College, from which he was graduated with honors in 1953. He was graduated from the Lutheran Theological seminary May 18 and was ordained May 23 in Grace Lutheran Church, Lancaster, during the 19th annual convention of the Central Pennsylvania Lutheran synod.

One of four U.S. school children has vision difficulties.

Rotary (McPherson 1-0) vs. Lions (Weikert 0-0).

The Lions Little League team copped its first game of the season by downing the winless G. L. Bream team 8-0 on a well pitched one by Lefty Howard Miller, Friday evening at the Recreation Park.

Miller allowed only a single by Tony Claybaugh in the second inning in capturing his first win of the season against one setback. He struck out nine and didn't allow a man to reach first via base on balls.

Claybaugh is charged with the loss although he did a fine job in holding the Lions scoreless for four innings permitting only hits by Eugene Miller and Doug Appier.

Claybaugh ran into trouble when he gave free passes in the fifth and sixth frames, and also was the victim of several infield miscues.

Break Deadlock

After four scoreless frames, the Lions finally broke the ice with a pair of tallies in the top of the fifth. Eugene Miller belted a long double up to the right field fence with one out. Dick Crist then singled to score Miller. A wild pitch and an outfield error sent Crist around to score.

The Lions picked up six runs in the top half of the final frame on singles by Crist and Howard Weikert and three costly infield miscues.

Eugene Miller and Dick Crist led the Lions hitting attack with a pair of hits each. Miller doubled and scored a run while Crist singled twice, scored a pair of runs and drove in two more.

Internal Parasites May Cause Livestock Producers To Lose Profits, County Agent Warns

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Farm livestock losses from internal parasites in all states last year amounted to an estimated $53,279,000 — a startling sum. Profits from most livestock enterprises were slim, while for many livestock producers internal parasites were the cause of their ending the year in the red.

A good parasite control program for sheep and cattle, consists of both prevention and treatment. Prevention involves sanitation and good rotated pastures. Hay racks and feed troughs must be kept clean and off the floor. Feed racks need to be built so that calves and lambs cannot walk in them. Thrifty, well-fed animals are more resistant to the harmful effects of parasites than thin animals in a run-down condition.

Phenothiazine is still the most effective drug for most parasites in ruminating animals. A properly administered dose will help the animals temporarily. But since it is almost impossible to remove all the worms from the animal body, the parasite population soon builds up again unless prevention and periodic treatment are continued.

Most internal parasites spend part of their life cycle outside the animal body. This is the method parasites use to multiply their numbers, since one female worm may produce thousands of eggs.

With proper treatment, livestock owners can eliminate a majority of the egg-producing worms. And with proper sanitation, they can prevent the animal from picking up large numbers of worm eggs or larvae.

Parasite control is a continuous job. When treating with drugs such as phenothiazine, follow the directions on the container or the advice of the veterinarian.

Protect Plants From Cut Worms
To avoid heavy cutworm damage to newly set flower and vegetable plants, prompt, effective control measures should be taken. These plump, gray-appearing caterpillars hide in the soil during the day and feed at night. They cut off plants near the ground level. Cutworms are most abundant on land that was in sod the previous year.

One way to prevent damage to newly set flower and vegetable plants, where only a few plants are involved, is to wrap the stems of the plant with paper as they are transplanted. Four inch strips of newspaper are suitable for this purpose, with two inches of the collar underground, and two above.

For plants already set, dust the ground at the base of each plant with 5 per cent DDT dust or a 2½ per cent heptachlor dust.

Commercial growers can obtain control by spraying infested fields with 3 to 4 pounds of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder, or 3 to 4 quarts of 25 per cent DDT emulsion per acre. Heptachlor at 1 to 1½ pounds of 25 per cent wettable powder or 1 to 1½ pints of 2-E emulsion per acre is also effective. Apply the treatment 3 to 7 days before planting.

Posson bran bait, recommended for many years, also is effective when used properly.

Pointers On Starting Chicks
Strick sanitation is a "must" in brooding chicks. This includes the thorough cleaning and disinfecting of the entire brooder house including walls and ceiling, and the brooding equipment, several weeks before the chicks arrive.

Quality chicks that are bred for high egg production and low mortality are the most profitable. Before ordering be sure chicks are pullorum clean and are from healthy stock that have been bred for high egg production and low mortality.

Provide proper ventilation. Chicks can stand considerable cool air, but they are highly susceptible to drafts. A well-ventilated house should offer no noticeable pungency on entrance from outdoors and litter should be dry.

Preheat brooder house. This should be done 3 or 4 days before the chicks arrive. Don't crowd

A GOOD FLOOR
A sound subfloor is highly important when a hardwood finish floor is planned. The subfloor should be softwood, surfaced on one or both sides. The boards should be 25/32-inch thick and not over 8 inches wide, laid diagonally with at least two tenpenny nails at each joint and at each board end. Kiln dried lumber is preferred. Green or wet boards will shrink and open cracks in the finish hardwood floor.

TOPS POPULARITY LIST
Douglas fir, according to West Coast Lumbermen's Association, holds first rank among the 165 important tree species of the United States in total stand, lumber yield and production of plywood. Fir is rugged for industrial and railroad uses, though its principal market is in building construction. Its strength, durability, and good green lumber shipping and storage qualities, are among Douglas fir's high points of market value, the Association asserts.

HAVE WOODEN ROOFS
Since the early beginnings of Christianity, houses of worship have been built with wood, especially in the roof section. Today, in the midst of the greatest church building boom in history in the U. S., three out of every four churches built have engineered timber construction roofs. Most of these huge wooden beams of Douglas fir have been glue-laminated and man-made arches are so large they can span a church seating 10,000 people without need for posts or supports.

chicks. Allow 1 square foot of floor space per bird to 8 weeks of age. During the first 8 weeks a chick multiplies its weight from 8 to 10 times.

Adjust temperature. Before the chicks arrive and during the first week the normal brooding temperature is 95 degrees, 2 inches above the litter, with an electric brooder. Provide ample feeders and waterers. Provide 2 inches of hopper space per bird to 8 weeks of age and 1 gallon per 100 chicks through 4 weeks of age.

Fences Keep Pets, Children From Roaming

This is the time of year when pets and children start to roam. It's the time of year when most housewives wish again they had a fence around their own little world to keep their own pets and children home and to shut out non-members of the family.

Fortunately, fences can be beautiful as well as utilitarian. Take the new basketweave design, or the shadow offset fence, or the medium or high estate-type enclosures as examples of beauty and utility.

Any handyman can build these fences, even friend husband with a spare weekend on his hands. The materials are easily obtained at any retail lumber yard. Posts of durable western red cedar can be bought all cut to size without waste, and the boards of cedar or Douglas fir are in handy lengths and widths. You can use lower priced lumber such as utility or economy grades of cedar or fir to build these fences. You can either leave them to weather a warm, natural color or you can use any of the smart new stains to add color and preservative qualities.

Simply Built
The basket weave fence is simply built. Place heavier posts at eight or ten foot intervals, then using a one-by-three inch upright board as a divider or spacer, start weaving long boards which fit the openings between large posts, using upright spacer and posts to develop the basketweave pattern. Boards can be six, eight or ten inches wide. Cooling breezes can get through, but most animal pets are stopped cold.

Offset fences are a modification of the estate fence. Posts are set, and top and bottom rails applied, then fence boards are nailed with alternate boards on opposite sides of the rails. This creates a breeze fence but shuts out the view of outsiders. You can build little recess niches in your estate fences with shelves to hold choice potted plants.

Dos-Don'ts

DO . . . repair small breaks in screening with ready-made patches that hook on easily.

DO . . . knock a loose screen joint back into place with a rubber or wooden mallet before refastening.

DO . . . remember, when doing a complete rescreening job, that many variations of mesh are now available, including copper, bronze, stainless steel, aluminum, plastic, fiberglass and many grades of galvanized metal.

DO . . . remove the old screening after first prying off the narrow molding, saving it for re-use if it is in good condition.

DO . . . use tacks or staples for the easiest method of re-attaching the screens to the frame, asking your dealer to give you fasteners made of a metal compatible with the screening.

DON'T . . . overlook the use of corrugated fasteners, dowels, corner

Certified Seed Use For Grassland Increasing

The quality of grassland seeds certified in 1953 was nearly four times that of 1949, and the percentage of total production increased from 3 per cent in 1949 to 13 per cent in 1953. But this still leaves some 87 per cent uncertified.

With 4 crops the percentage certified was much higher than the average—alfalfa, 33% of 133 million pounds; tall fescue, 56% of 28 million pounds; perennial ryegrass, 53% of 17 million pounds; and Ladino clover, 81% of 7 million pounds. With sweet clover, crimson clover, bromegrass and Sudan grass, they were about average or below, and with timothy, orchardgrass, Kentucky bluegrass, lespedeza, red clover, alsike clover, the vetches, common ryegrass, winterpeas and some others, the percentages were small or negligible.

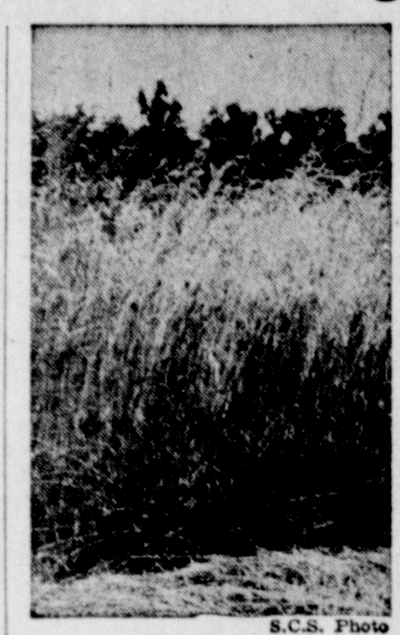

The extension of certification will depend upon such factors as (a) how rapidly superior varieties will be developed, (b) whether seed produced as a by-product of forage will continue to compete successfully with certified seed and (c) iron angles or mitered corner braces for rightening loose frame joints.

DON'T . . . be a bull in a China shop in removing the old mesh from a frame or you will damage the wood.

DON'T . . . paint screen cloth with an ordinary paint brush; use a special applicator, which usually is a piece of felt or other material attached to a flat block of wood or metal.

DON'T . . . allow any holes to become clogged during painting; keep a toothpick handy to unclog the holes while the paint is still fresh.

Certified Kentucky 31 fescue being grown for seed.

whether for use as forage or soil improvement certain named new varieties will be sufficiently superior to make them more profitable.

Improve Grasses
Improvement of grasses and legumes for grasslands will continue indefinitely and new and improved varieties will gradually become available. With some crops the performance records show that it is only through the use of certified seed of improved adapted varieties that the maximum production of the highest quality forage can be obtained. In such cases, certified seed should be utilized as rapidly as it becomes available.

The advice "use only certified seed" is sometimes given when the intent is to advise the farmer to use the best quality seed he can buy. Though well-intended, such a sweeping recommendation of certified seed is not at all realistic and results in confusion when the buyer is unable to find certified seed of some prominent grasses or clovers. Improved strains of many grasses and legumes are still to be developed, or may at present be only in the trial stage and not commercially obtainable. Until such new strains and varieties are available, farmers requiring seeds in this group need have no hesitancy in using uncertified seed. The important point is to buy seed of known origin, seed that has been properly reseeded, tested and honestly labelled from his reliable seed dealer.

Summing up, the careful farmer is advised to use certified seed of proven superiority where available, but to remember that in making good productive grassland he is not limited to certified varieties. Whether the seed is certified or uncertified, a well-prepared seedbed, adequate fertilization and good cultural practices are necessary for best results. And whether certified or uncertified seed is to be used, make sure that it is of highest quality, thoroughly reseeded, laboratory-tested and properly labelled.

PERFECT BUTT JOINT

Don't cut or trim boards separately when you want to join them together for a large flat surface, advises the American Builder, trade journal. Place the boards together and nail wood strips across the ends. Set a fine-tooth circular saw blade to cut right through the crack of the proposed joint.

"My son and I have gotten good control of apple powdery mildew with KARATHANE for the past two years. KARATHANE programs also produce good sound marketable fruit and form an important part of our spray schedule."—EDWARD SWISHER, Levels, W. Va.

TIME FOR KARATHANE

to finish off powdery mildew

Apple growers who used KARATHANE WD last year are convinced there's just nothing better for powdery mildew control. When used as recommended, it cleans up even the severest infections without harming foliage or fruit.

It is especially important to continue KARATHANE applications during the cover spray period. KARATHANE is needed at this time to prevent infection of next year's buds and to maintain protection of this season's foliage and terminals from secondary infection. All you need is 1 pound of KARATHANE per 100 gallons of spray, and 2 to 3 ounces of TRITON B-1956 spreader for thorough wetting of the "waxy" mildew.

You'll also like KARATHANE for the way it suppresses European red, Willamette, two-spotted, Bryobia, and Pacific mites. Get KARATHANE from your supplier today.

Millhimes Children Follow In Footsteps Of Their Mother In 4-H Activities In County

When the Millhimes girls have problems in their 4-H work they can always take them to their mother because her experience in 4-H activities goes back over 25 years.

The family of Rufus Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2, near New Chester, was selected by the county extension office for this week's story in the series on 4-H youngsters in the county.

Mrs. Millhimes began her work as a 4-H leader just 25 years ago, when she was a teacher at the Conewago School in Mt. Pleasant Twp. in 1931.

"Miss Mathias, who was the county's extension home economics representative at that time, called and asked me to form a 4-H club at the school. I said I didn't know anything about it, but I'd try," Mrs. Millhimes reports. "I tried and it was a lot of fun. Now the girls are all grown up and some have been local leaders of clubs in their own communities."

3 Children In 4-H
While there have been lapses in Mrs. Millhimes 4-H leadership, she headed the New Chester Club last year and is planning to act as local leader or assistant local leader for another club this year.

Three of the Millhimes children have been in 4-H work. Harold R., 19, was in the 4-H tractor maintenance club for two years in addition to being a Future Farmers of America member at New Oxford High School.

The two girls are still active in 4-H work. L. Rose Millhimes, 17, has had six years of 4-H work, the Like mother, like daughters is the story at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2. The daughters, Ruth, at left, and Rose, at right, are active in church, school and 4-H work. Hunterstown Club, Lincoln Highway Club, Baby Beef Club and the New Oxford Community Club. She served as president of the Lincoln Highway Club, and, as her family declares, "secretary of everything else," except the Baby Beef Club. She is also a member of the county 4-H council.

Active In School
A graduate of New Oxford High School this spring, she played basketball there four years, was in the band for four years, a majorette for two years, cheer leader two years, sang in the chorus for three years, was a member of the Future Homemakers of America Chapter at school and served as vice president of that group. She also has attended the Penn State 4-H Leadership School and the Pennsylvania State Future Homemakers of America sessions.

In the meantime she has also served as president of the Young People's Class of St. Paul's "The Pines" Sunday School. A. Ruth Millhimes is a carbon copy of her older sister as far as activities are concerned. Currently a student at New Oxford High School, 15-year-old Ruth has played in the band there, has been a cheer leader, played basketball two years, served as girl's basketball manager, and is in the chorus. She has been president of the Gleaners' Sunday School Class of St. Paul's "The Pines" Church and is now its secretary.

Carriers For The Times
In 4-H work she has been a member of the Lincoln Highway Club, the New Oxford Community Club, the New Chester Club and the Baby Beef Club.

Between helping with housework, and taking part in club and school activities, the two girls have also had time to serve as carriers for

The Gettysburg Times. In their church work the girls follow in the footsteps of their mother. Mrs. Millhimes is not only active in 4-H but in the organizations of St. Paul's Church and serves as organist at "The Pines."

Innovation In Church Design Saves Dollars

There has been a virtual revolution in church design in the U. S. in the past decade.

It all stems from the development by Western manufacturers of a completely new building material — engineered wood.

Man has taken lumber as we know it and as Nature has grown it and converted it into huge arches, trusses and beams which can span a building large enough to seat 10,000 people without posts or supports.

Research has developed glues so powerful and so resistant to wear, weather and stresses that they can be used to glue together boards and two-inch dimension pieces of Douglas fir into beautiful curving arches long enough to span 210 feet.

Can Shape It
In engineering wood, man can design it to almost any shape, such as the lovely sweeping parabolic arch, or the inspiring and powerful boomerang arch. He can build up a heavy heel section and let the pointed and cambered top of the arch or truss slim out.

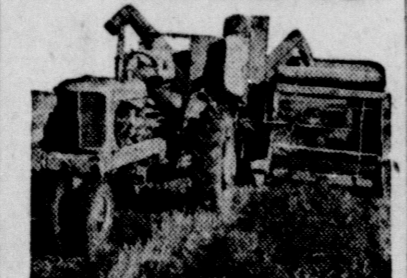

Not only have these huge, glued laminated arches and trusses put a completely new building material into the hands of the nation's architects, but they have brought great savings into church construction, and some even claim they have encouraged the present, tremendous boom in church construction, the greatest in the history of our nation.

Ceiling, Walls
For instance, the massive, sweeping arches are being made to serve both as a roof structure and as walls, which is a great saving. Instead of costly masonry work, the beauty and grace and texture of the beams and arches is being used as a decorative feature of many churches and exposed beams and equally beautiful exposed ceiling, purlins and bracings of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock add a charm and grace to church buildings and best of all they help contribute to the lowered costs.

Single copies of an informative booklet "Beautiful Churches Of Today" may be had without cost by writing West Coast Lumbermen's Association, 1410 S. W. Morrison Street, Portland 5, Oregon.

With 1929 as 100, Mexico now has a population index of 174 compared with 134 for the United States and 120 for Europe.

The removal of all grease or wax cannot be urged too strongly. Bind over wax. Wipe a surface with turpentine when repainting. This is especially important in kitchens.

WOOD FIGURES IN HISTORY

Wood has served man since the beginning of time. A broken branch grabbed in desperation to beat off a vicious animal put weapons in the hands of primitive man, just as a lightning strike igniting wood put fire in his power. Then, wooden branches and tree trunks formed a crude shelter, not to compare to the wondrous homes of Douglas fir and west coast hemlock being designed for modern man. But, the story is there, wood's use by man across the vast span of history, and wood is as modern as man, or as primitive as the Neanderthal creature.

During the Revolutionary War, Irish soldiers probably made up about 38 per cent of the U.S. Continental Army, says the National Geographic Society.

(A Monthly News Bulletin by the Daffin Company)
As Given to Them by Mr. Martin Wolfskill

The Farmer's Viewpoint . . .

DAIRY FARMER REPORTS SAVINGS OF $2,000 A YEAR USING DAFFIN FEED UNIT

Martin and Annie Wolfskill and their son, Mark, own and operate a successful dairy farm in Berks County, Pa., right in the heart of the colorfully historical "Pennsylvania Dutch" country.

The Wolfskills have one of the finest dairy herds in the area, and as you can readily see they take great pride in their farm. Being progressive, Martin takes advantage of mechanical and technical aid offered to modern farmers — and his farm and dairy herd show it!

Naturally therefore, the Wolfskills are regular customers of a Daffin Mobil Feed mill operated by Sunshine Farm Supply Co., Wayne feed dealers from nearby Lititz, Pa.

Discussing the sort of feed service he gets from Sunshine and the Mobile Feed Unit, Mr. Wolfskill says:

For more than a year now, we have been getting feed made by the Daffin Unit. We keep accurate records of feed costs and milk production, and find that we have saved, in the past year, at least $2,000 in actual feeding costs.

Our milk production has improved and we know the regular service from Sunshine Farm Supply has saved us considerably in time and labor.

Incidentally, I want to say that we use Wayne concentrates and find our Wayne Salesman very helpful with his advice on our dairy formulas, as well as for all our livestock feed processed by the Daffin Unit.

We sold the 12" farm-type hammermill we were using prior to starting with Sunshine Farm Supply because we figured that with the service we are getting with the Feed Unit we couldn't afford to grind our own feed.

We regularly milk an average of 50 cows and are building a herd of replacement heifers. All our cows and heifers are registered Holsteins.

Two Churchmen To Receive Honorary Degrees At Mount

Brother Gabriel Cecilian Cannon, FSC, principal of the Calvert Hall College High School, Baltimore, and Rev. Francis A. McGinley, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Archbald, Pa., and national director of the Friends of Carthusians in America, will receive honorary L.L.D. degrees at commencement exercises at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, next Wednesday.

Brother Cannon will be honored for his "distinguished contribution to the cause of Catholic education." Rev. Fr. McGinley will receive the degree for his "distinguished service as a churchman and particularly for his charity to the Home and Foreign Missions of the Catholic Churches."

Native Of Scranton

A native of Scranton, Pa., Brother Gabriel entered the Novitiate of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, Ammendale, Md., in 1924. He received the habit of the Christian Brothers in 1926 and professed his vows in 1927. In 1932 he was graduated from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He made his perpetual profession as a religious in 1934.

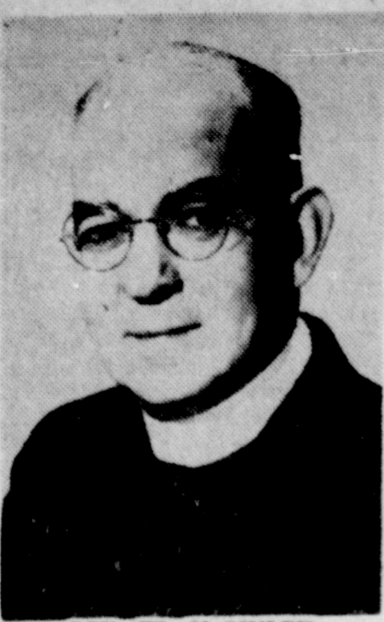

After teaching religion and mathematics at West Philadelphia Catholic High School from 1934 to 1941, he did graduate work in mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania and the Catholic University of America, receiving his M.A. in 1942. Following his teaching assignment at Central Catholic High School, Pittsburgh, Pa., he was appointed vice principal in 1944, a position he retained until his appointment as principal of Calvert Hall College in 1950.

He is chairman of the Secondary Department of the Christian Brothers Educational Conference, a member of the Executive Committee of the Secondary Department of the National Catholic Educational Association of Secondary School Principals.

School Founded In 1845

As principal of Calvert Hall College High School in Baltimore, Brother Gabriel directs the oldest establishment of the Christian Brothers in the United States. Founded in 1845 and established at its present site in 1890, Calvert Hall numbers 980 male students and is staffed by 25 Christian Brothers and 10 lay professors. Plans for the erection of a new Calvert Hall on a 35-acre site in Towson, Maryland, are now underway.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Rev. Fr. McGinley was graduated from Mount St. Mary's College in 1915 and received his A.M. in 1917 and was ordained from Mount St. Mary's Seminary for the Diocese of Scranton in 1918. Following post-graduate work at the Catholic University from 1919 to 1922, during which time he received his S.T.B. and J.C.L. degrees, he taught at St. Thomas College, now the University of Scranton, until 1923. He continued his graduate studies at Columbia University and

REV. FR. MCGINLEY

Fordham University, receiving his Ph.D. from Fordham in 1927.

Gift To Mount

In addition to his duties as national director of the Friends of the Carthusians, he is also president and treasurer of the Home and Foreign Missions Society. In 18 years this society, which includes many non-Catholics, has contributed over $500,000 for Catholic education and the home and foreign missions. Among these gifts is a $25,000 contribution for the erection of a new annex to the Mount St. Mary's Seminary. The group has also funded four full scholarships honoring famous American women: Elizabeth Bailey Seton, Katharyn Drexel, Rose Hawthorne, and Cornelia Connelly.

Harney

HARNEY—The annual memorial service of the EUB Church will be held Sunday evening at the cemetery at 7 p.m. with main service at the church at 7:30. The Rev. ## ADLAI ASKS FOR OLD FOLK VOTE IN CALIFORNIA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson has gone after the "old folks" vote in California, charging the Eisenhower administration with neglecting the needs of the nation's senior citizens and defending his own record on pensions.

And Sen. Estes Kefauver has thrown Stevenson's "mud-slinging" accusation back at him, saying that Stevenson's rival for the Democratic presidential nomination — "has been making personal and unfounded attacks on me" for months.

As he has done before, Kefauver criticized Stevenson's role as a defense lawyer for the Radio Corp. of America in an antitrust suit brought by the Zenith Radio Corp.

Both Kefauver and Stevenson are hopeful of winning support from California's politically significant population of retired persons. The two men are battling to win the state's 68 Democratic National Convention nominating votes in a primary next Tuesday.

Called "Sure Thing"

In Washington, a meeting of the National Citizens for Eisenhower was told today that if only 5 or 10 per cent of Negro voters could be persuaded to switch their voting allegiance from Democratic to Republican, President Eisenhower and a Republican Congress "would almost certainly be elected under present circumstances."

Richard L. Tobin, public relations director for the group, said in a prepared talk that "every Negro" must be convinced that "he has a vested interest in the election of a Republican House and a Republican Senate."

Eisenhower's statement to the same organization Thursday that "the prestige of the United States since the last war has never been as high as it is today" drew this comment from Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont):

"I wish I could be as sanguine as the President. It appears to me that the facts indicate that at the present time the Soviet Union is making all the positive moves . . . The American people are entitled to know the facts and should not be given generalized statements and outworn clichés . . ."

However, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), like Mansfield a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that a recent softening of Soviet belligerency is "largely due to our firm American policy." Aiken said the administration's record "speaks for itself."

Stevenson made his pitch on the old age benefits issue on Thursday in a speech at a rally in San Diego, a popular retirement area.

He said it is "mighty hard for me, frankly, to understand how the Eisenhower administration can continually boast about the property . . . when the fact is that the average income of couples 65 years of age or older in America today is only $1,500."

Stevenson said there are serious injustices in the present social security program. He urged what he described as "a decent program to meet not only the needs and the hopes but the rights of our 15 million senior citizens."

Deprives Party

Kefauver's new attack on Stevenson for his part in the RCA suit came in a speech at Ingleside. The senator said Stevenson's appearance as counsel in the RCA case "could deprive the party of an issue vital to the American people and their economy, as well as to his party." Kefauver described RCA as "one of the country's biggest monopolies," and said of Stevenson:

"I do not see how he could convincingly discuss the monopoly issue or express concern for independent businessmen after defending in a case based upon the charge that a combination existed to keep independent American companies out of export trade."

WAR ON SPEEDERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons wants to set up a special court to deal "speedy justice to drunken drivers" as part of a stepped-up campaign to reduce auto accidents.

Gibbons said Thursday 57 drivers, including one charged with leaving the scene of a fatal accident, had been jailed in the first week of the city's intensified drive against drunken driving.

Laurel racetrack in Maryland admits ladies free to the grandstand each Thursday.

PROVIDE FUNDS FOR INDUSTRY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Local industrial development agencies will share a million dollar state appropriation under a bill signed into law Thursday.

The money will be distributed to agencies to assist them in finding ways of establishing new or enlarged industrial, commercial or manufacturing enterprises in the counties.

Other measures signed include: Mines Dept. for sealing and dewatering abandoned mines, $1,700,000; Glen Mills School, Delaware County, $860,000; Lincoln University, Chester County, $480,000; National Agricultural College Farm School, Doylestown, $80,000; Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades, Delaware County, $56,000; and purchase of strip mined areas by Forests and Waters Dept. for park areas, $200,000.

FULL FRENCH DIVISION IN BLOODY FIGHT

By JOSEPH DYNAN

ALGERS, Algeria (AP) — A full French division was locked in a bloody mountain battle today with a powerful Algerian nationalist force. The French said they had killed 290 rebels in the action—the biggest since the Algerian rebellion erupted 18 months ago.

The fighting raged in the deep "Gates of Iron" gorges through eastern Algeria's Biban Mountains—route to a rebel stronghold. The area lies southwest of the coastal city of Bougie.

The battle began three days ago when the French 7th Division trapped the nationalist force in the sun-baked gorges. The French said they had taken 210 prisoners.

Details sketchy. It marked the first time a full French division has engaged in a single battle in Algeria. That and the heavy casualty report indicated the rebel group was an unusually strong force.

Details of the fighting were sketchy. Guerrillas working behind French lines have played havoc with communications.

Reports from the front said the French raked the nationalists with artillery while helicopter-borne troops dropped grenades on rebel positions.

The French are making an all out effort to dislodge the rebels from the mountain pass. If they take the area, they will command the southern rim of the disputed Soummam Valley on the outskirts of the rebel-held Grand Kayble.

Police Raid Homes
In the Constantine area, French forces moved against a rebel group near Mila and reported they killed 30.

In Algiers, police raided the homes of known Communists and leaders of the National Algerian Movement. They reportedly picked up 30 Reds and MNA leaders.

The Arabs staged a general strike yesterday in the Casbah—native quarter of Algiers—in protest against the French clamp-down.

In Paris, the Algerian situation held the stage in the French National Assembly's debate on Premier Guy Mollet's policies.

A vote of confidence on the government's policies is slated for Tuesday.

No point in the island of Bermuda is more than a mile from the sea.
